NOT A SAFE MAN.

GEORGE B. THATCHER, by grace of appointment attorney-general of the State of Nevada, is not a safe man to trust with the important duties of the office which he fills by accident and favor. He has demonstrated his unfitness for the position by his frequent violations of the constitution and the law, in fostering the friendship of arch criminals and encouraging anarchy and lawlessness through indulgence of the petitions of a murderer and outlaw whose offense set back Nevada twenty years in the annals of progress. Thatcher cannot condone his conduct in acting on boards and approving the actions of boards making appointments of members of the last legislature to offices of profit in direct violation of the constitution. Neither can he stand up and explain any good reason why Preston, the Goldfield murderer and assassin, should have been pardoned when it was a notorious fact that his crime was so flagrant that all former applications had been denied by a unanimous vote.

Thatcher has played to the galleries for the sole purpose of ingratiating himself into the friendship of organizations whose votes he courted. In pursuing this course he has directly insulted the people whom he is supposed to represent by toadying to a class and pandering to the dissolute elements of society.

It behooves every good citizen to be a loyal Republican or an enthusiastic Democrat to cast his vote next month for George Springmeyer, whose election is so dreaded that the political machine of the state has used the courts to muddle the situation to an extent where they think it will entail confusion and result in the defeat of the young attorney who has demonstrated his fitness for the position which is now held by George B. Thatcher. The supreme court has refused to allow the withdrawal of the name of McKay from the ballot as a candidate for the office of attorney-general, notwithstanding McKay's positive declaration that he is not a candidate and his failure to comply with the law in the matter of filing expense accounts for the primaries. No one should be misled by this condition which is none of McKay's seeking. The latter has taken the stand to advise his friends to vote for Springmeyer and he is doing all in his power to convince the voters of both parties that it is to their interest that Springmeyer should be elected.

There was a time when the Bonanza believed Thatcher was all right, but we have come to the parting of the ways. Thatcher has played politics instead of attending to the duties of his high office, and in doing so has alienated his best friends.

Sam Platt is making a whirlwind campaign and he is also making lots of friends wherever he goes. He has all the elements that appeal to the virile men of Nevada who want a man of their own choice and of their own station in the senate. They want a man who understands their wants and the wants of the state instead of a silk stocking whose alien longings unfit him to represent the people of Nevada.

Colorado is a very accommodating state. That the Tonopah Placers company should be allowed to move a gold dredge from one side of the tracks of the Colorado & Southern railroad at Breckinridge the railroad closed down for over two weeks. Perhaps there was no traffic, anyway.

The Democrats are so affectionate with their scalping knives that not a single Democratic paper in Nevada is supporting Newlands and the State Democratic central committee has to issue its own organ. Probably not another state in the union can duplicate this experience.

Esmeralda county bonded itself to the tune of $50,000 to encourage joy riders to pass through Goldfield. If it had a camp with one-half the showing of Tonogold the people of Esmeralda county would gladly sink half the entire bond issue to help development.

If the Nye county commissioners care to confer a favor on citizens of Tonopah they might hire themselves out at a per diem to inspect the road between the laundry and Tonogold and see what a very little money is required to place the road in good condition.

Newlands is a firm believer in the power of money and therefore he is conducting a gum shoe campaign through the medium of Jimmy Finch, whose salary is paid by the $100,000,000 war tax government at Washington.

Sam Platt is one of that class who takes pride in being known as Native Sons of Nevada. He is proud of the fact that he was born and reared in this state and that every dollar he owns was earned by his own efforts.

Has any one here seen Newlands? Is the burning question of the campaign ten days before election. The senior senator evidently relies too strongly on personal magnetism and absent treatment.

Newlands must be hard pressed when he has to quote eulogies from eastern papers while the press of his own state is significantly silent.

It goes hard with Sir Francis to dig up. The boys are all in a watchful waiting mood, but their patience has a limit.

BAUXITE THE BASE OF THE LIGHTEST MINERAL USED

ARKANSAS LARGEST PRODUCER OF ALUMINUM ORE IN THE UNITED STATES.

Arkansas is first among the states in the production of two minerals—bauxite and novaculite, the former being the ore of aluminum and the latter the source of the larger part of the oilstones produced in the United States. The principal mineral product of Arkansas, however, is coal, the annual value of which constituted over 56 per cent of the state's total. The total value of all the mineral products of Arkansas in 1913 was $4,767,591, according to the United States geological survey, compared with $4,258,726 in 1912. The coal production was 2,234,167 short tons, valued at $2,922,701 in 1913, against 2,100,819 tons, valued at $2,582,789, in 1912. The coals of Arkansas are generally of high grade, particularly in the eastern part of the coal field, where they approach anthracite in character. The semianthracite of Arkansas is an excellent domestic fuel and reaches markets as far north as Kansas City.

Bauxite, from which aluminum is derived, is second among the mineral products of the state. It is mined near Benton, in Saline county, and in Pulaski county. In 1913 the stone quarries of Arkansas furnished products valued at $25,000, exclusive of novaculite and of limestone burned for lime. In 1912 the quarry products were valued at $12,844. The clay-working industries, while not highly developed, take third place and in 1913 produced an output valued at $579,624, an increase of $67,019 over 1912. The only metalliferous products of Arkansas besides bauxite are lead, zinc and manganese ores. Other commercial mineral products are fuller's earth, gems and precious stones, lime, mineral waters, natural gas, phosphate rock, and slate.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

At the Butler this evening four reels of high class pictures will be shown as follows: "A Summer Idyl," an Edison comedy; "Two Men Who Waited," an Essanay drama; a Biograph split reel showing two comedies, "Get There or Bust," and "The Show Business," and a Vitagraph drama, "Politics and the Press." The power of the press is strikingly shown in this Vitagraph portrayal. Through the columns of his paper a young editor fights a ring of crooked politicians. They attack and coerce; their threats are of no avail. Finally they resort to violence, but they are arrested, convicted and suffer the full penalty of their crimes. The editor is inspired by a sense of justice and a desire to prove himself worthy of a woman's love, which enters very largely into the theme of the story. This double purpose gives a stronger interest to it.—Adv.

GAIN OF $4,500,000 IN COAL PRODUCTION

KENTUCKY MAKES LARGE GAIN IN MINE OUTPUT FOR THE PAST YEAR.

The principal mineral product of Kentucky is coal, the value of which constitutes about three-fourths of the value of the state's total mineral output. In 1913, according to the United States geological survey, the total value of the mineral production of Kentucky was about $7,000,000, of which the coal mines contributed $2,516,745. This is an increase of about $4,500,000 in value of total mineral products over the figures for 1912.

The second industry in importance, clay-working, contributed $2,514,274 in 1913, an increase of $470,538 over 1912. The quarrying industry is third in importance in the state, its products in 1913 being valued at $1,150,268, against $1,221,168 in 1912. The petroleum production of Kentucky increased from 484,368 barrels in 1912, valued at $424,822, to 524,568 barrels in 1913, valued at $475,748, while the value of the natural gas produced decreased from $212,455 to $209,844.

Kentucky is one of the few states in which Souders is produced, and in 1913 the output was nearly double in quantity and value that of 1912. Other mineral products are asphalt, cement, ferro alloys, iron ore, lead, lime, mineral water, oilstones, sand and gravel, sand-lime brick, and zinc.
